mother or a wife. Our friends and relatives can contact us wherever we are. But the mobile phone has also become a great nuisance. Criminals and dons use it to execute their operations. A gang leader operates even from behind the bars. Certainly, its use has increased the graph of crimes. Students use it frequently in schools and colleges. The results are not very favourable.

The mobile phone demands a careful and judicious use. We must use our good sense while using it.

(B) Read the passage carefully and answer the questions given below : (10)

Childhood is the golden period of man's life. Children need core and care for their growth and development. However, child abuse is the tragic irony of Indian social life. About 10 million children are employed in unhealthy, hazardous and dangerous trades and industries. Bare footed, lean and thin children have to work for 10 to 15 hour a day. They work in numerous shops, dhabas, brick kilns, small factories and cottage industries. Some risk their lives while setting newspapers on busy roads.

These child workers are generally ill-fed and treated like bonded labourers. They are often underpaid. Thousands of children work in fire crackers often match factories in south India. Many of them get killed in accidents and fires. The carpet industry in Uttar Pradesh employs lacs of children. Children have to work in chemical factories in most inhuman conditions.
